Boys State Governor-A First for SHS

Ed Reed - Boys State Governor

Mrs. Nancy Hall, state Treasurer, turned her office over to Girls State Treasurer Marlene Hatasaki for one day.

Eleven girls and fourteen boys represented SHS at Girls State and Boys State last summer. And what a job they did! Ed Reed became Boys State's first governor from Springdale and Marlene Hatasaki was elected Treasurer of Girls State.

Girls State delegates were Ginger Henry, Jaquita Reeves, Marlene Hatasaki; 2nd row-Laquita Day, Nancy Graham, Jamie Meador; 3rd row-Kathy Allen, Cheryl Sims, Sandye Dearien, Gay Brandon, and Diana Chambers.

Boys State delegates: Kneeling-Steve Baskin, and Terry Tucker; Standing-Scott Biggs, Sid Groves, David Mustain, Eddie Edmondson, Chris Colville, Rocky Brooks, George Wilkinson; Sitting-Rick Burba, Ken Ames, Randy Burgess, Wendell Fleming, Kent Ferguson and Ed Reed. David Mustain and Randy Burgess were not Boys State delegates. Delegates not pictured are Johnny Tyson and Greg Hawkins.

Most Successful FFA Rodeo Ever Held

The annual FFA Rodeo hauled in over $2,000.00 profit this year, a record amount.

A featured attraction, the Oklahoma State Prison Band, joined with the exciting drama of cowboys and clowns to draw the largest number of participants ever from the four-state area.

One girls event, goat tying breaks the monotony of the Rodeo.

All around rodeo winners were Ann Glover and Gary James.

Brenda McCollough, the 1969 Rodeo Queen, Archie Knight, the Sponsor, and Debbie Garrett, the 1970 Rodeo Queen.

This is one event where a cowboy's hat is jolted from his head.

'70 Homecoming Scenes . . .

Seniors won the parade sweepstakes, and their "Moby Dog" fished out a second place award.

Senior—Sammie Peace

Senior—Cathy Buckley

Senior—Jama Snow

At coronation, Tommy Ward, "the King," offered Karen sweetheart roses. Serving at the pre-game activities were pages Jackie Harp and Shane Thompson.

Senior—Jamie Meador

Senior—Ginger Henry

Memories . . . floats . . . assembly . . . parade . . . game . . . dance . . .

For Queen Karen and her court Homecoming was a time of joy and honor. For the football players it was a tension-filled day ending with the excitement of struggle.

For each student at SHS Homecoming '70 was a memory not to be soon forgotten.

Senior—Linda Zulpo

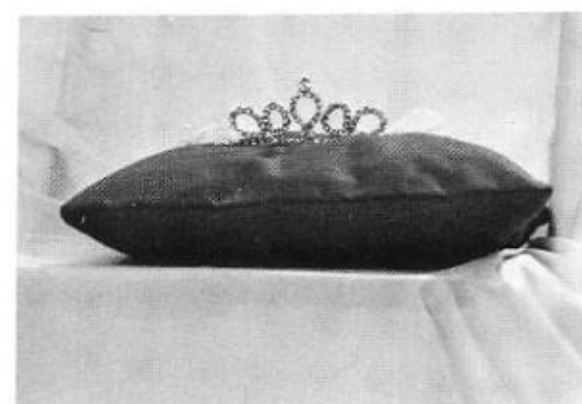

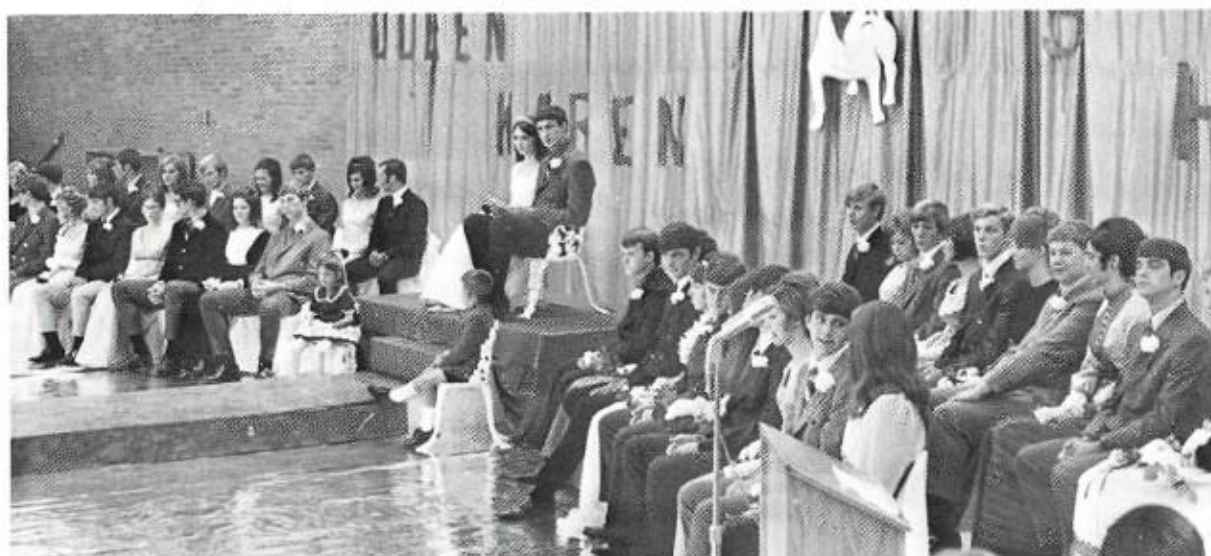

Senior—Cheryl Jech

Senior—Sue Parsons

The royal court was seated amid elegant decorations for the afternoon assembly.

Senior Slogan: "Give 'Em Whale Big Red"

The girls representing the senior class were Cathy Buckley, Ginger Henry, Sue Parsons, Jamie Meador, Queen Karen Grimsley, Jama Snow, Linda Zulpo, Cheryl Jech, and Sammie Peace.

Sophomore—Robin Rains

The sophomore class chose Susan Rollins, Paula Irwin, Kathy Holt, Robin Rains, and Linda Henry for maids.

Before the assembly, Coach Jarrell Williams greeted the guest speaker, Mr. Wally Ingalls. Mr. Ingalls, who spoke on sportsmanship, is the assistant registrar at the U of A and a former sportscaster.

The traditional Homecoming dance was held in the cafeteria with music provided by the Cates' Gang.

A "first" this year—maids rode in ski boats instead of convertibles.

Everybody and their dog enjoyed the Homecoming parade.

Carol Baker, Gay Brandon and Kitti Sherry wait to be served at annual Miss SHS tea.

Mrs. Shirley Willock, Mrs. Earlene Henry, Mrs. Pat Woods, Mrs. Katie Hovey and Mrs. Marilyn McCord helped with the Miss SHS tea.

Girls Get Ready for the Miss SHS Pageant

Marlene Hatasaki, presented a Character Ballet.

The Miss SHS PAGEANT is held annually. On March 19, 1971 the girls went to a Complimentary Tea which was given by Mrs. Courtney Crouch. The girls met the judges and were asked various questions. There were 15 girls competing for the title of Miss Springdale High School.

As her talent, Terry Lefevre plays the Harp.

Kitti Sherry sings "When You're Smiling."

Girls get last minute instruction on the night before the pageant.

To open the pageant with a bang, a group from the SHS Chorus presented a medley of Patriotic songs.

The climax of the evening was the crowning of Lea Ann Maestrias Miss SHS.

The surprised Gay Brandon is congratulated by friends after the announcement that she was selected Miss Congeniality.

Ed Reed (far left) was given the Best Supporting Actor title for his part as Dr. Strauss. He and his colleagues are embarrassed by Charlie's outburst at a party honoring him.

Charlie is speechless at not being recognized by his elderly father.

Kathy Struebing received the Outstanding Performance for all three nights.

SHS Hosts Junior Miss Pageant

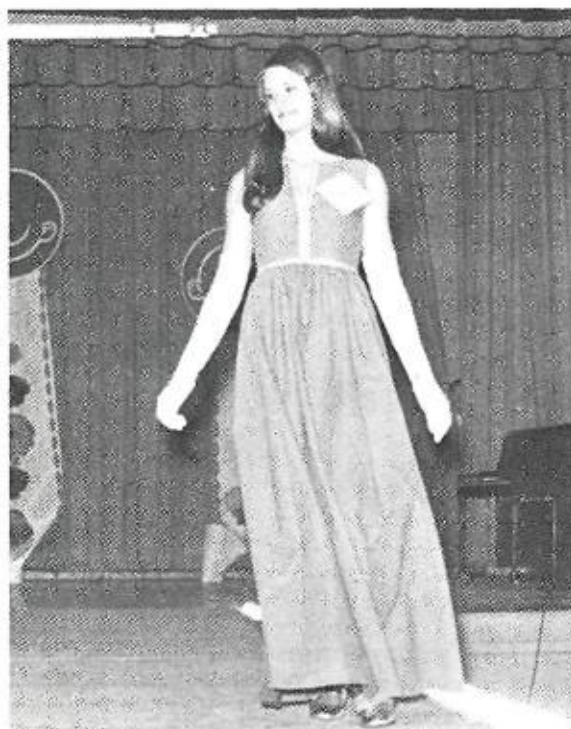

This year the SHS Journalism Department obtained the franchise for the Northwest Arkansas district Junior Miss Pageant. Twenty-five girls from the area participated, and the district winner plus three others received bids to the state pageant in Little Rock. Not a beauty contest, Junior Miss is a scholarship program for outstanding senior girls.

Connie Clinehens, Fayetteville, was selected the District Junior Miss. Talent Award was given to Leslie Pales, Fayetteville. Achievement Award was given to Patty Watson, Huntsville. The Personality Award was given to Marlene Hatasaki. This award is given by the other girls. Citizenship Award was given to Debra Studyvin of Gravette.

Karen Grimsley smiles broadly at a question posed by the master of ceremonies.

27 Participate in U of A Honors Program

The semesters began with receiving the "packets" necessary for registration.

The semesters ended with checking the posted grades after much anticipation.

The Honors program is designed to acquaint high school students with the responsibility and atmosphere of college life.

Any Junior holding an average of 3.0 or above is eligible to apply for this program at the University of Arkansas and take college courses during his Senior year. These students receive full college credit for all courses taken.

The entrance took lots of time, paper flowers, and crepe paper.

and more paper napkins.

Juniors Bid "Au Revoir" to the Graduating Seniors

The 1971 Junior Senior Prom and Banquet was held May 8, after many months of tiring work. "Au Revoir," one of the most outstanding Proms ever given, cost the Class of '72 much money, time, effort, and imagination. The funds for the event were achieved through pop bottle drives, fruitcake sales, T-shirt sales, ink pen sales, and through hard work at the rodeo.

The prom was made of lots of boards and nails. . .

gallons of gray, green, and black paint . . .

Time out is called after three days of sleepless nights and endless labor.

Surprise, John! After a week of no sleep, hard work, and keeping the seniors out of the gym, Juniors are getting jumpy.

Jungles of borrowed trees and napkin hedges evolved into beautiful parks.

"Professionals" give their opinions on the painting of one of the many murals done for the Jr.-Sr. Prom.

The Arc of Triumph welcomed the class of '71.

Last minute consultation evaluation; and the banquet is ready for a Saturday night in Paris.

Happiness is the '71 Prom!

"Let's sit this one out, okay Randy?"

Reflections

The fantasy is over but the thought still remains: Good Bye and Good Luck from the Class of '72!

Belles Lettres Takes On A New Face

Long hours, hard work, gallons of ink, boxes of staples, and stacks upon stacks of paper went into the making of the 1971 BELLES LETTRES.

The 1971 BELLES LETTRES took on a new face and changed its outlook. Unconventional picture on the cover and some of the same on the inside, plus a pinch of color, made up the new BELLES LETTRES.

BELLES LETTRES is a money-making project for the juniors to finance the Jr.-Sr. Prom and Banquet.

This year two sections were added—potpourri and short story. A contest was held to determine the outstanding work in each category, and the winners were treated to dinner at Mary Maestri's.

The 1971 BELLES LETTRE was dedicated to Colleen Letsch.

Mrs. Barbara Williams, sponsor, looks over final selections before printing.

Mrs. Judy Tilton, sponsor, contemplates over a selection for BELLES LETTRES.

BELLES LETTRES has a weird cover. . .

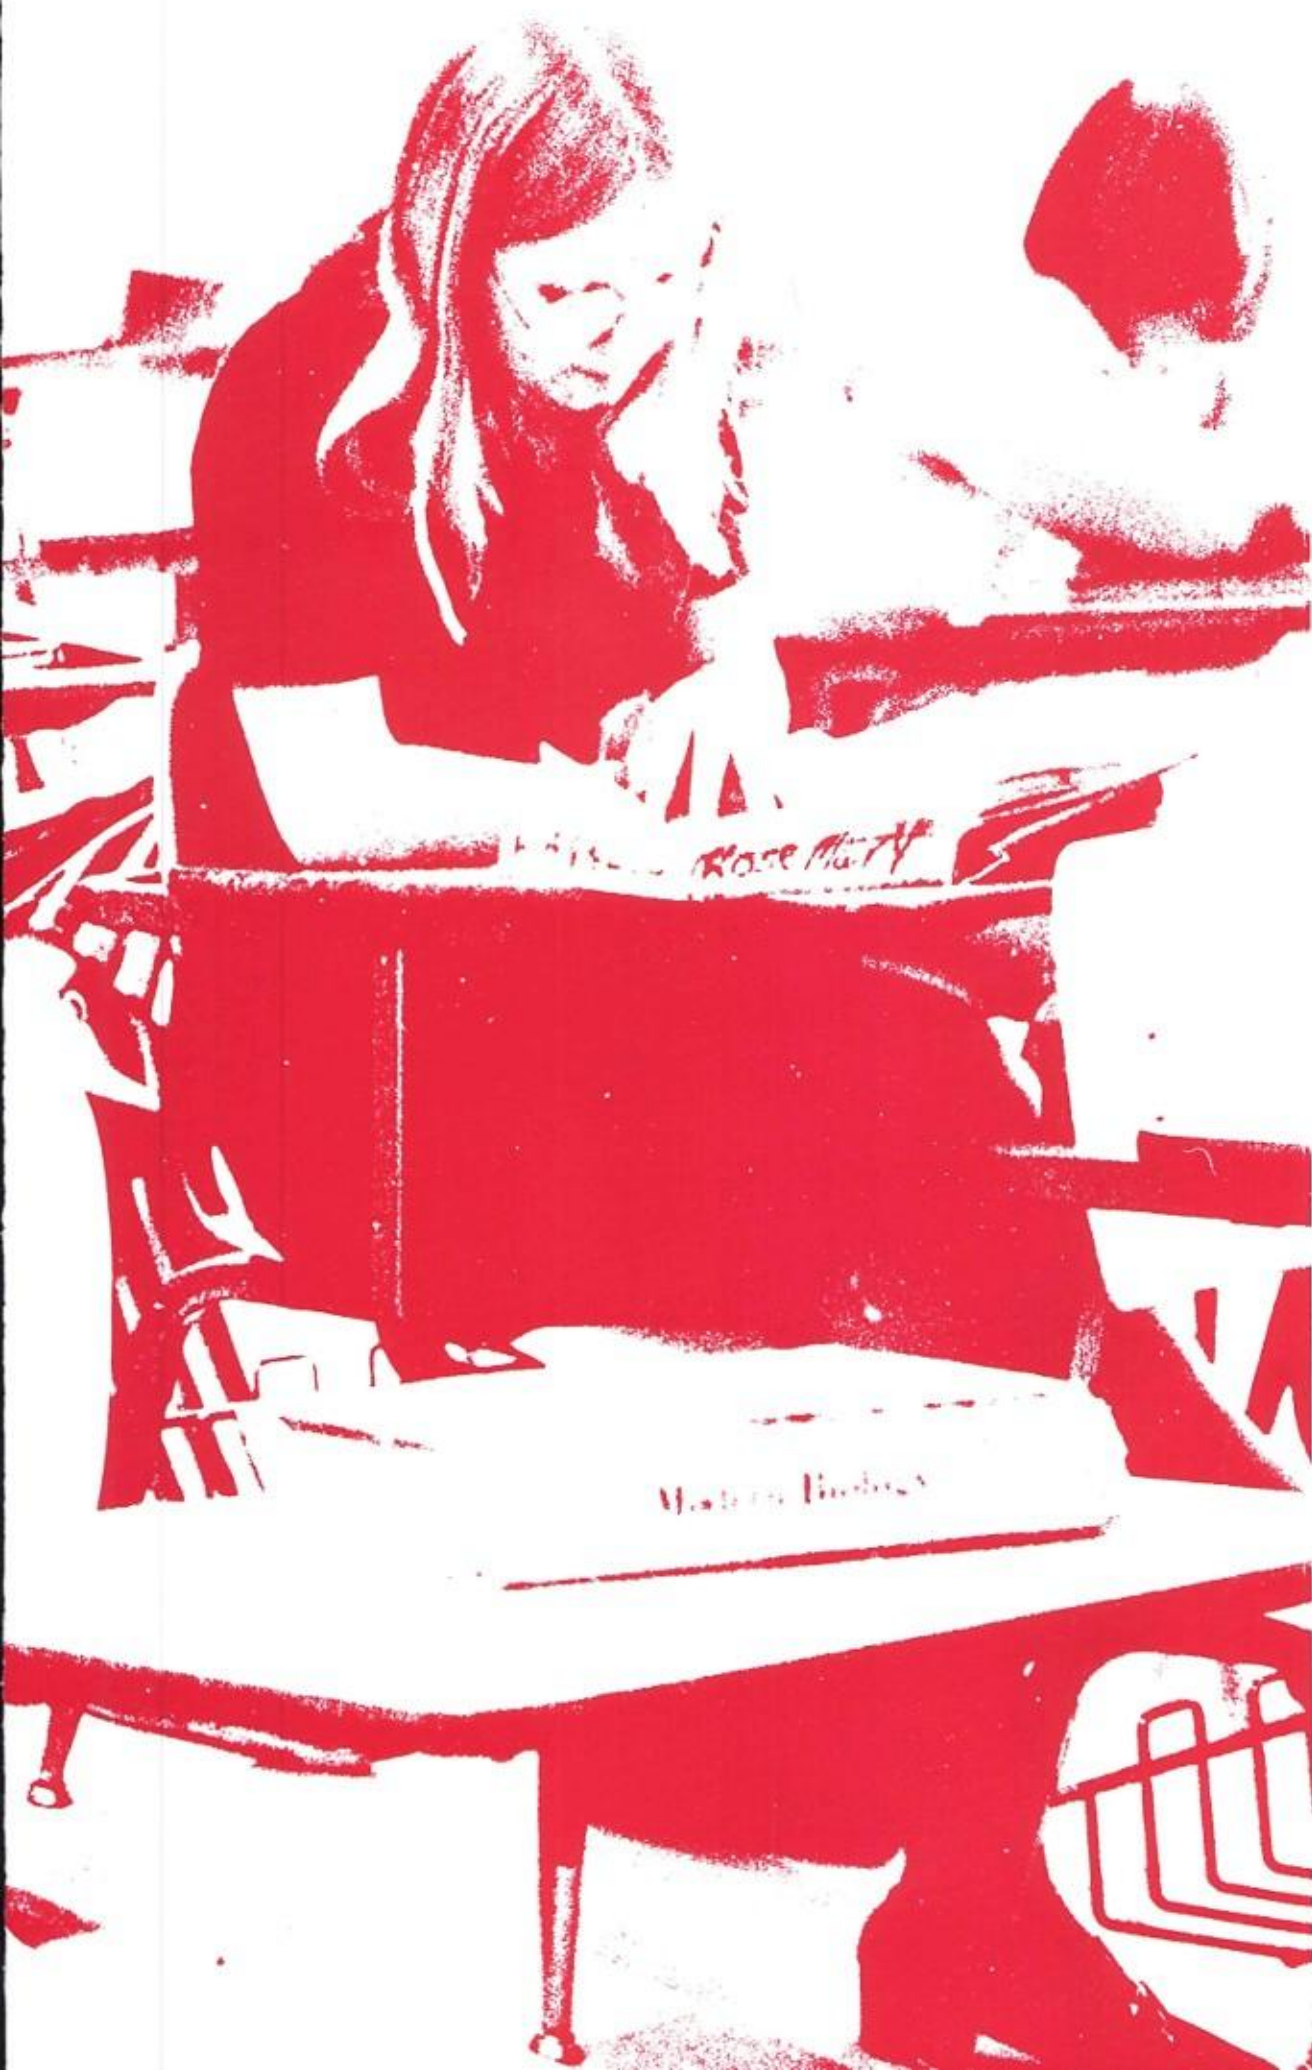

and weird color pictures.

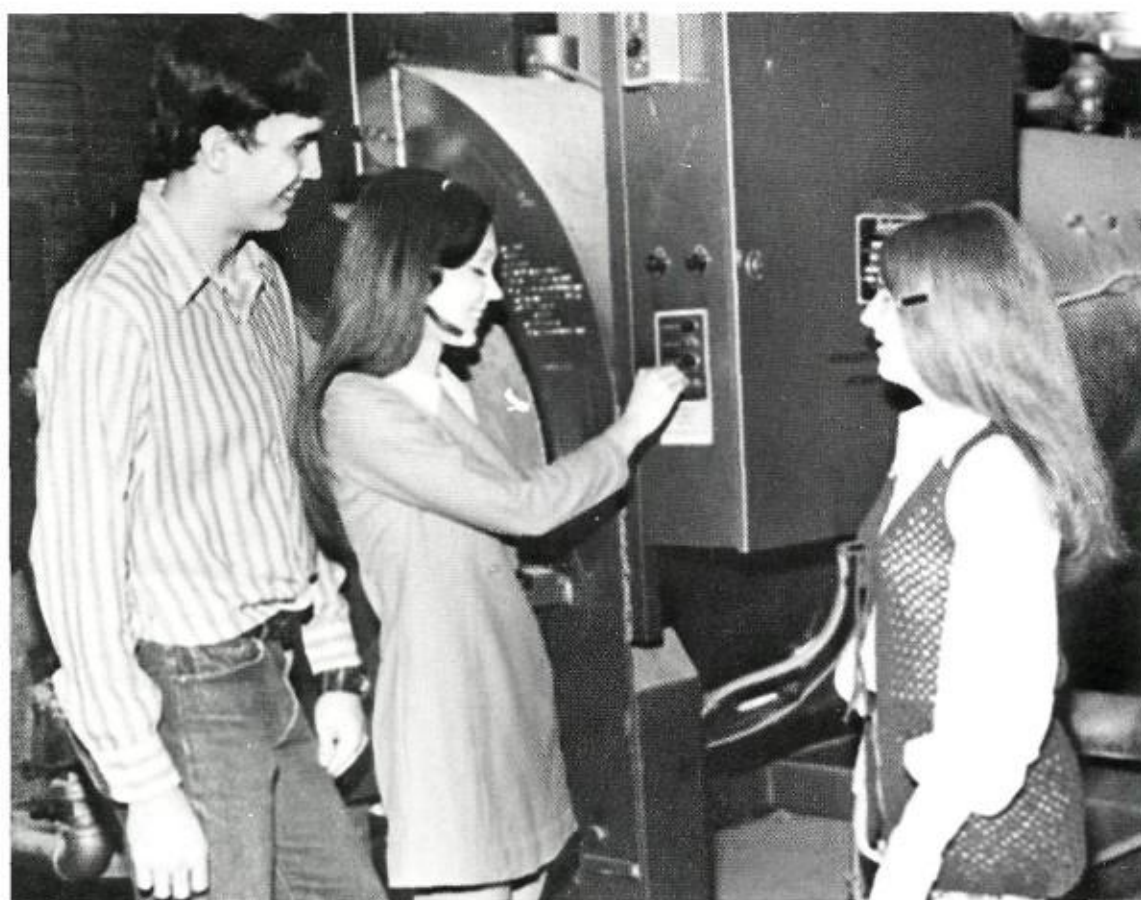

A banquet was held in honor of the staff and winners of the poetry, short story, essay, and potpourri selections.

Classes

Senior Class officers: Tommy Ward, Vice-Pres.; Karen Grimsley, Secretary; and Ann McGetrick, Treasurer.

When the Seniors look back over their school years, they have many memories. Through the years they have encountered many new situations and have mastered them. This experience has prepared them to face the world.

Looking ahead, the Seniors see the world of tomorrow as sometimes exciting, sometimes frightening.

The Senior motto seems especially appropriate for students with the spirit of the seniors. As Seniors looking forward to a new life, "WE love today for we have seen yesterday and are not afraid of tomorrow."

The class of '71 proved its ability to serve the community by giving the Day Care Center children a picnic followed by fun and games at the park. This and other projects helped them win the Class Service Award for the second year in a row.

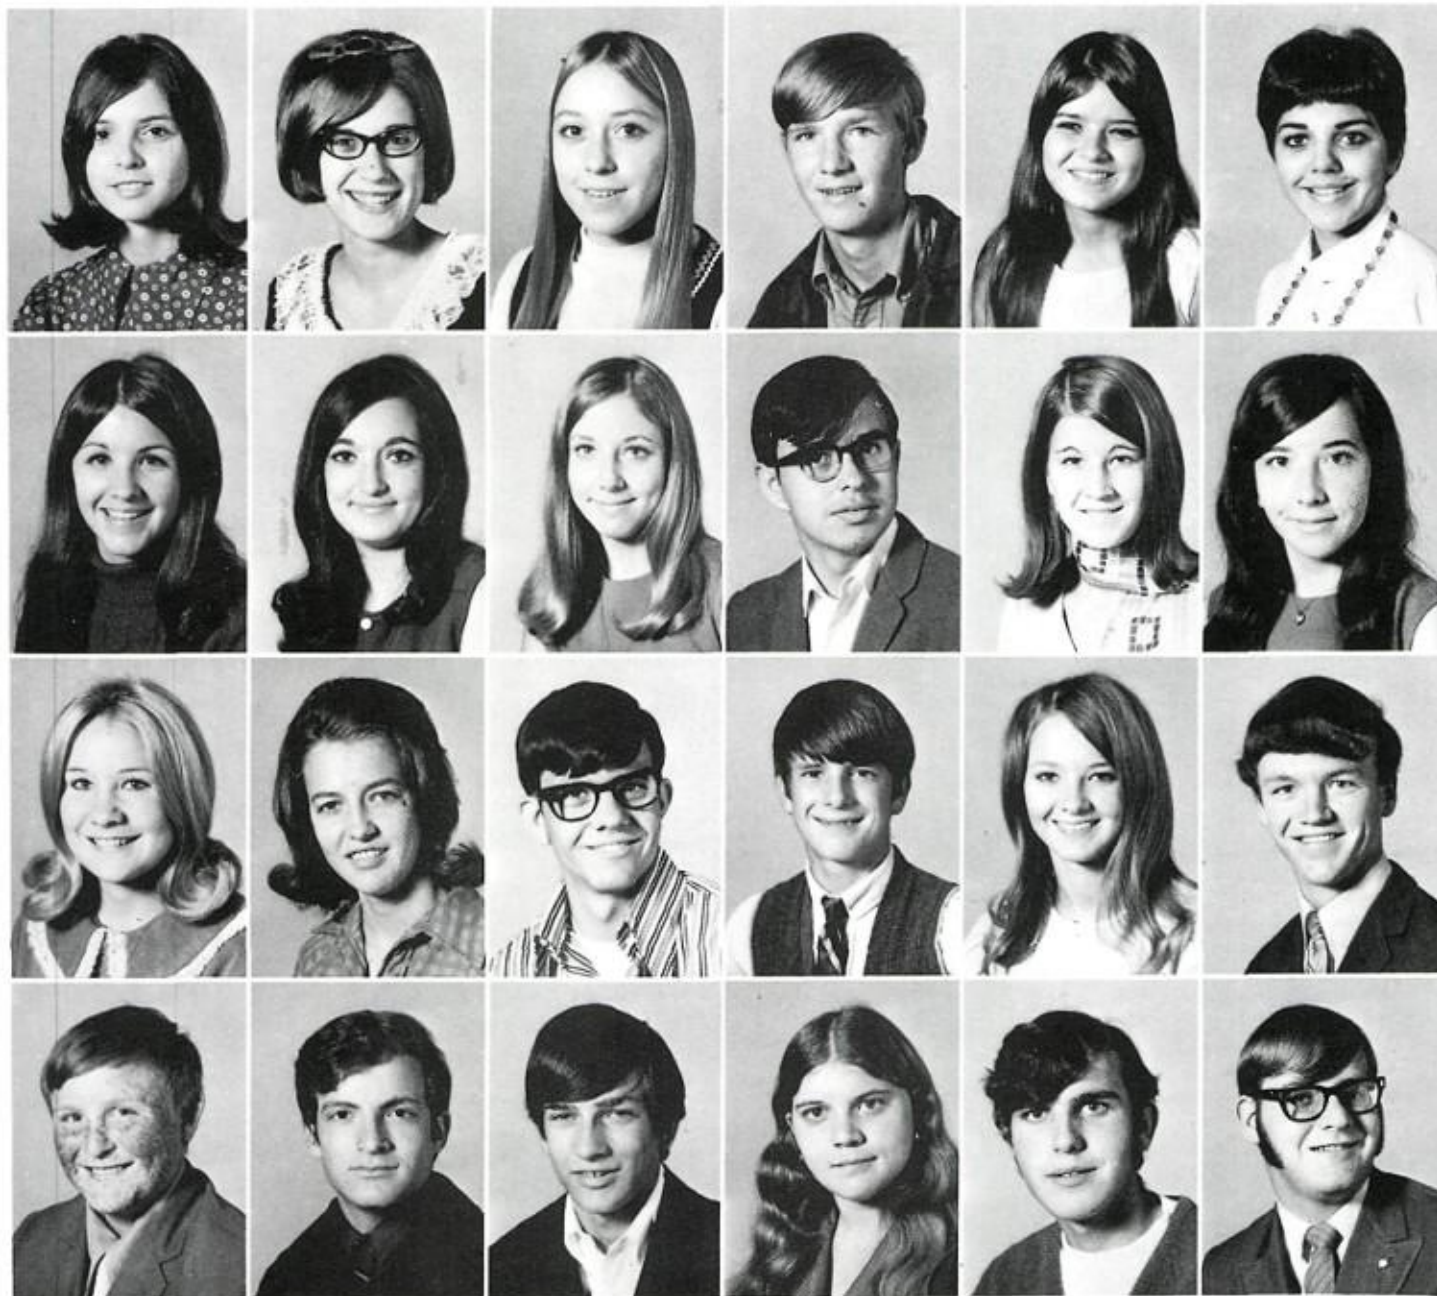

Becoming a Junior means being faced with the challenge of presenting the best Jr.-Sr. Prom at SHS.

To finance this expensive activity, the Class of '72 had several money making projects this year. Among these projects was the sale of Bulldog ink pens. The class also sold red and white T-shirts and Christmas fruit-cakes. Other fund raising projects included pop bottle drives and working in concession stands during the Rodeo.

The Junior class demonstrated its school spirit by supporting the Bulldogs with enthusiasm at games and pep rallies. The class ended the year by printing BELLES LETTRES.

Administration

Reconstruction of Tornado-torn, Fire -

The Springdale School Board is established to organize the school system. Bi-monthly meetings are held to establish new policies and initiate improvements which are necessary to keep pace with a fast-growing community. In addition to the routine tasks, this year the board was plagued with reconstruction of school buildings. First, in August, sections of Elmdale Elementary were demolished by the tornado, and then in January came the tragic fire which totally destroyed the east wing of Central Junior High.

Mr. Thurman Smith is the Superintendent of Schools, and he has worked in this position for eight years in Springdale. His main duty is serving as the head of the school board and school system. Mr. Smith also directs weekly meetings of school principals. He is a familiar sight at SHS; for he regularly visits here and in other schools of the system. We students have grown up knowing Mr. Smith, and we especially appreciate him.

Mr. Norman Crowder, former SHS principal, now holds the office of Administrative Assistant, in which he directs elementary education and government programs. The head of the department of Secondary Curriculum is Mr. Leon Gaines, and Mr. Joe Roberts handles all transportation assets and problems for the school system.

gutted Schools is Met by the Board

(Above) Mr. Ralph Brooks is the Supervisor for Construction and Maintenance for our school system. His main job this year has been supervising the reconstruction of Central Junior High's east building. The new rebuilding task above replaces these shots of the building, destroyed by fire January 14, 1971.

This was the year SHS was re-evaluated by the North Central Committee. Members were greeted in a special hostess room (above and below) where they examined curriculum booklets and looked over the displays of several clubs.

A banquet honoring the North Central Committee was given in the cafeteria the first night they were here.

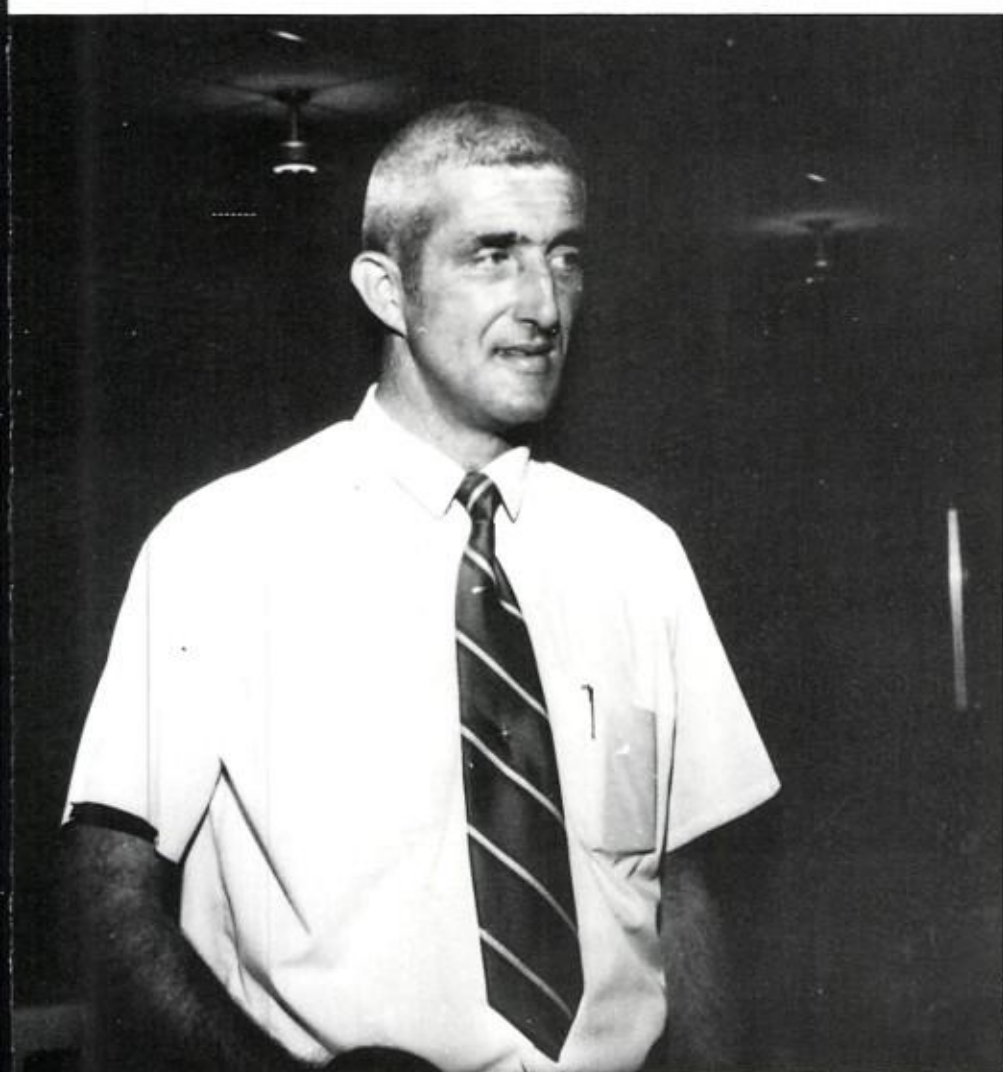

North Central Evaluates SHS

For Springdale High School, 1971 was a very important year. It was the year in which a committee from the North Central Re-evaluation came to SHS to note the strengths and weaknesses of the school, and also to make recommendations for its improvement. For three days, April 19, 20, and 21, the committee visited the school to observe its daily activities.

Mr. Benny Moore, principal, Mr. Thurman Smith, superintendent, and Mr. Gerald Sanders, vice-principal, check over departmental summary reports for the North Central Re-evaluation.

Among his duties as principal, Mr. Moore (left) is assigned to evaluate the work of all assigned personnel. He also directs and supervises the total curricular program at SHS. Serving as vice-principal is Mr. Gerald Sanders (right). He is personally in charge of maintaining discipline, checking the student attendance, and directing student activities. Mr. Sanders also serves as the sponsor for Student Council.

Secretaries Work With Efficiency

Bookkeepers Mrs. Nellie Griggs and Mrs. Corinne Nicoll and secretary Miss Gayle Hinds pause in their work at the administration office.

Registrar Mrs. Marcella Phillips checks through a student's file in the SHS office.

Mrs. Vivian Bohannon, secretary in charge of the federal program, and bookkeeper Mrs. Wanda Sanders are kept busy with much work at the administration office.

Secretary Mrs. Lula Belle Powers prepares the daily absentee list for SHS teachers. She is also book store supervisor.

Mrs. Zinneta Brooks, secretary at the high school office, types teachers' duty schedules.

Teachers Try to Keep Pupils in Line

Mrs. Rita Jeffus withstands the onslaught of students as they grab for the grub.

Lecturing, counseling, grading papers, administering discipline—whatever the task, members of the SHS faculty approach it with dedication and awareness. Many take on extra responsibility, sponsoring clubs and class activities which extend their hours with the students beyond those spent in the classroom. This year teachers spent much time outlining evaluations of their courses and activities for the North Central Association in order for the school to renew its accreditation. To those teachers who show dedication and sincere interest in the welfare of their pupils, the students of SHS extend a much-deserved thanks.

Counselors Seek to Help Students

DeWETT, LOUIS: Senior Counselor
STEPHENS, BETTY: Junior Counselor
STRICKLAND, GINA: Sophomore Counselor

Mr. Louis Dewett, senior counselor, checks a student's record.

Aiding instructing, caring—these are the jobs of our guidance counselors. Mr. Louis Dewett, Mrs. Betty Stephens, and Mrs. Gina Strickland perform a job vital to every SHS student.

Counselors arrange schedules, administer various tests, offer vocational guidance, and provide information on colleges. All these play an important role in the development of well-rounded individuals.

Mrs. Betty Stephens explains Merit Scholarship Test results to Donna Hawkins.

Mr. Alexander, sponsor, explains film developing with Carole Short and James Logan.

The Camera Club is for students who are interested in learning about photographic techniques. Either as an intended profession, or merely as a hobby, photography can be exciting and this club provides an opportunity for those with similar interests to work together.

Art Club Completes A Busy Year

Art Club sponsor, Mrs. Sue Weller, and President, Rodney Langley

The Art Club has completed a busy year of various projects. The Art Club made posters for other clubs, designed yard signs, and made and sold rings and copper enameled jewelry. The members participated in the Art and Science Fair, along with visits to local art exhibits. Earlier in the year, the Club traveled to Tulsa to visit art museums and to Silver Dollar City to view the folk art.

Brian Perry looks like he enjoys paper mache.

Cheerleaders' Cheer of the Year: "Alright!"

Despite a football season that wasn't exactly up to par, the cheerleaders kept the spirit. The pep rallies, during football and basketball season, were the best seen at SHS in a long time. The Varsity's new four-pleat wool skirts were an improvement too, instead of those things they'd been wearing since who knows when. One sour note, though, was the retirement of the beloved "Spirit Stick" due to an overabundance of class rivalry. Seems it did its job too well. But all in all, the cheerleaders did a great job of promoting school spirit when it was needed the most.

... And the Pep Club Yelled On...

With the highlight of the year being a tumble through the Bleachers at Russellville, the Pep Club had an uneventful year. Interest was not at its peak during football season, and when basketball season rolled around it had dwindled down to only a faithful few. These loyal supporters yelled on at home games, even though they were sometimes out-numbered by the peppers of the visiting team. Due to such lack of participation, this year may have proved to be the last for an organized, uniformed Pep Club at SHS.

The Pep Club sponsored "Bulldog Appreciation Day"—a day set aside to honor all SHS football players. After all, what's a Pep Club for?

Donna Hawkins served as Vice President, Teresa Turley as President, and Janice Hatasaki as Secretary-Treasurer of the Pep Club.

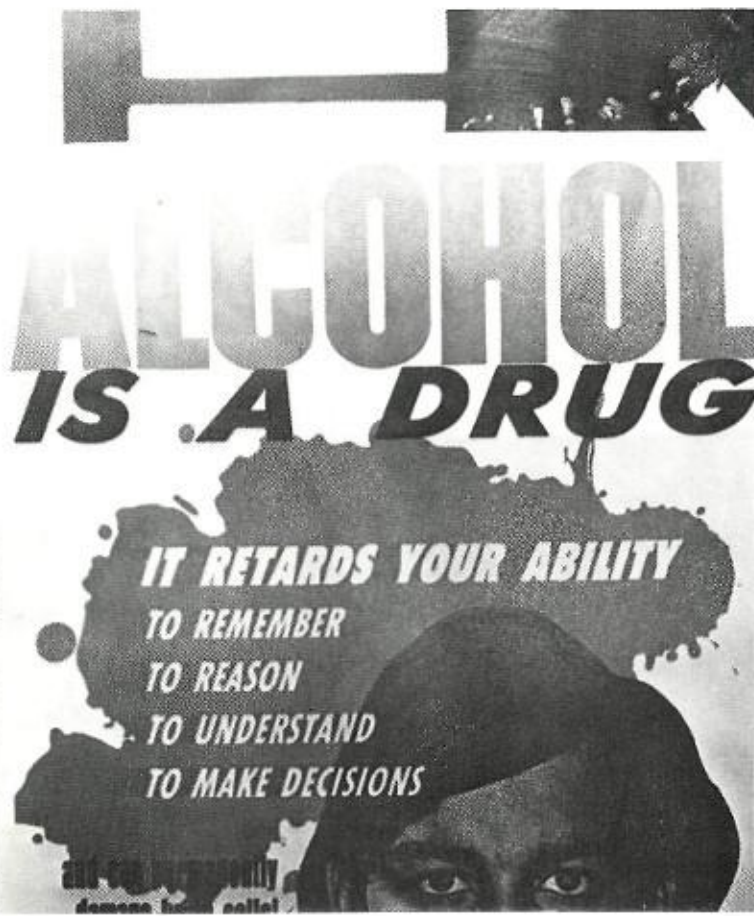

Homecoming for Peppers meant decorating the gym and cleaning it up after the assembly. When all the hard work was done, the Pep Club got in their two bits at the Homecoming game. (below left)

Captains were Marilyn Johnson (junior), Lyn Shelton, (Senior), and Susan Rollins (Sophomore).

Allied Youth Members 1970-71 School Year

A.Y. Stresses Growing Drug Problem

This year the Allied Youth turned it's emphasis from alcohol to the more serious problem of drug abuse. Posters were ordered and displayed throughout the school to inform students of the dangers involved in this habit. The club held a spring fashion show to raise money for future projects.

25 Springdale and Fayetteville stores and approximately 50 students were involved in producing a successful fashion show.

Mrs. Roberta Owenby and Mrs. Barbara Williams, A.Y. sponsors, eagerly gave their time and guidance to the group all year.

Allied Youth officers are, standing: Gail Beth, sec.; John Tyson, pres.; Vicki McReynolds, recorder; Debi Moore, parliamentarian; Pegi Trout, treas.; and Lea Ann Maestri, vice-pres. This year's A.Y. was very active, having the largest membership ever.

HOE Provides Health Occupations

Bobby Hood stacks thousands of pills every day in the pharmacy at Springdale Hospital.

Karen Westfall and Cathy Chudej perform various tasks as dental assistants. Karen prepares an x-ray and Cathy cleans a patient's teeth as Dr. Hollis Bennett looks on.

Doris Snow sets up the EKG machine at the hospital for the morning rounds.

Health Occupations Education, a branch of VICA, provides numerous jobs for students in various medical fields.

Many students who plan to go into the nursing field or therapy work, work at the Springdale Memorial Hospital. Others who choose to become assistants or pharmacists work in dental offices or the pharmacy department at the hospital.

HOE was newly formed this year and has been very successful. Its continuance may provide the community with doctors and nurses.

Joe Buckmaster, President, presides over the banquet for the initiation of officers.

Mrs. Lewella Weis, HOE sponsor, enjoys the initiation banquet.

Kitti Sherry prepares instruments for sterilization at Springdale Clinic.

Para-Medical Lifts Spirits At Xmas

Top to bottom: Debbie McGinnis, Susie Tevebaugh, Rita Presley, and Mrs. Sue Lefler.

President, Susie Tevebaugh attempts to promote sale of Xmas cards.

Sponsor, Mrs. Sue Lefler

Para-medical is an organization developed to help prepare high school students for their future career in the field of medicine or hospital work.

As a means of earning money, Para-Medical members sold Christmas cards during the Christmas season. For a small fee, students could send greeting cards to each other. The cards were delivered by the members during homeroom.

Vice President, Becky Seaton encourages fellow classmen to send Xmas cards to their favorite girlfriends.

Susie Tevebaugh explains to friend the importance of Para-medical.

Future Teachers Help at Open House

Donna Feagin, Randy Tyler, JoAnn Setty, Kathy Davis, Amy Wood, and Karen Wann were the delegates attending Tri-County.

Future Teachers of America, a national organization, gives students an opportunity to gain experience in the field of education. Members learn about good teacher-student relationships and find out about preparing for careers in education.

This year, Springdale FTA sent six delegates to the Tri-County convention at Rogers.

"No ma'am, it's that way," says JoAnn Setty at SHS Open House.

Student Council forms Governing Body

Officers Bubba Wilkinson, President; John Tyson, Secretary; Tom Watson, Vice-President in the last place you would expect to find them.

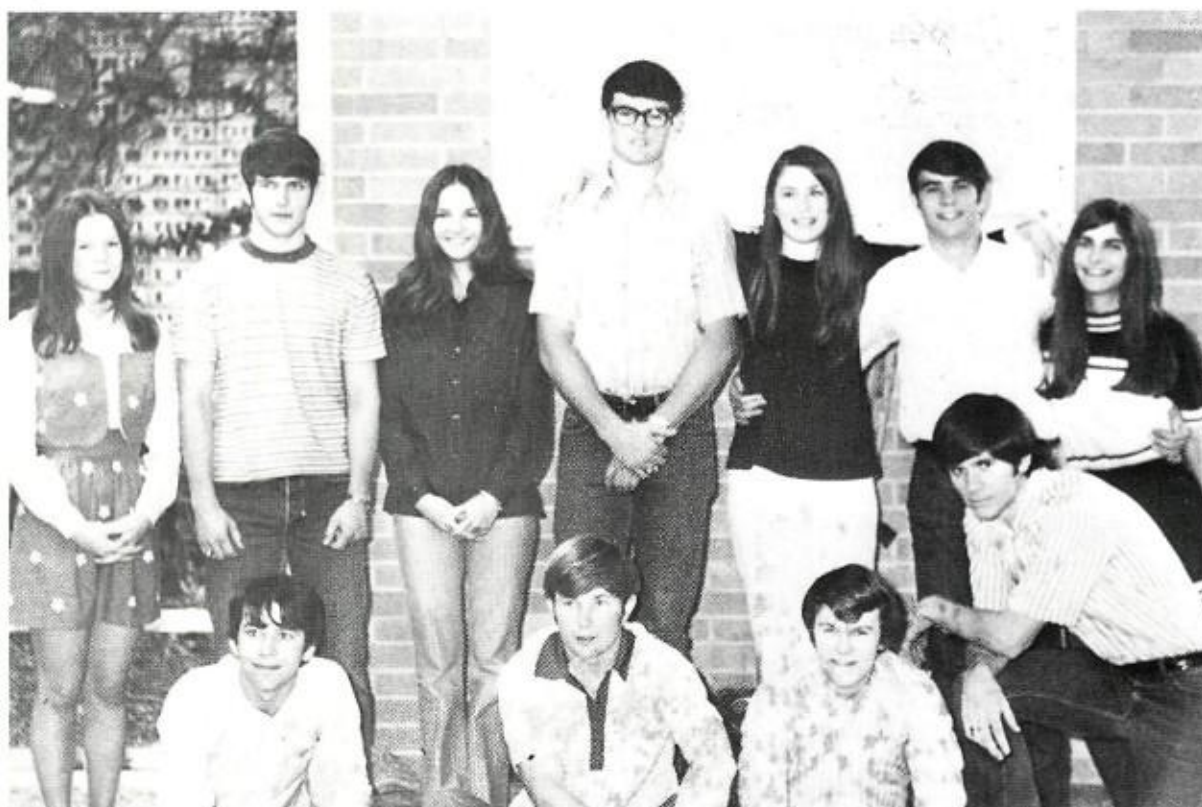

Mrs. Susie Slack and Mr. Gerald Sanders, sponsors, look over some minutes of a meeting.

Throughout the 1970-1971 school year our Student Council was involved not only in school activities, but also showed interest in local, state, and national affairs.

The Student Council worked at the Rodeo of the Ozarks in July. The year then began with an Open House for the teachers and the publishing of a student handbook. In September, the Council sponsored a magazine drive which annually encourages class participation through competition. The Senior Class won, with prizes given to all students who sold a certain number of subscriptions.

The Veterans' Day Assembly took place in November. Each year students are urged to turn their thinking to serious channels by this memorial to servicemen who have given their lives for our country.

The calendar bulletin board kept the student body well-informed by showing the dates of various activities. The Student Council was also responsible for fire drills held regularly throughout the year.

Members discuss various school problems at their regular meetings.

COE Introduces Office Techniques

COE is a business education program where the knowledge, skills and techniques learned separately in the classroom are brought together and applied to an actual office job. Training stations are located by the teacher-coordinator in Springdale and qualified students are interviewed for jobs. COE aids self-guidance toward better vocational choice, reducing late job separations. The student puts skills to work on the job and prepares for the permanent job now. In teaching students to work and get along with others, COE is a big step towards office competency.

DECA Gives On-The-Job Training

DECA'S purpose is stated in its motto: "Developing future leaders for marketing and distribution." By studying such subjects as salesmanship, advertising, economics, and merchandising in the morning D.E. classes, junior and senior students learn marketing and distribution. Then in the afternoon they put their knowledge to use on the job.

This year DECA has been involved in community projects such as radio programs. The club members had a candle sale and participated in the annual toy drive.

WEP Students Learn on the Job

Students Jerry Howell, Debbie Sumner, Danny Ferrell, Debbie Kinhoche, David White, Roger Fausset, Denver Willis, Linda Underwood, Randy Richardson, and David Kelley take part in leisure time

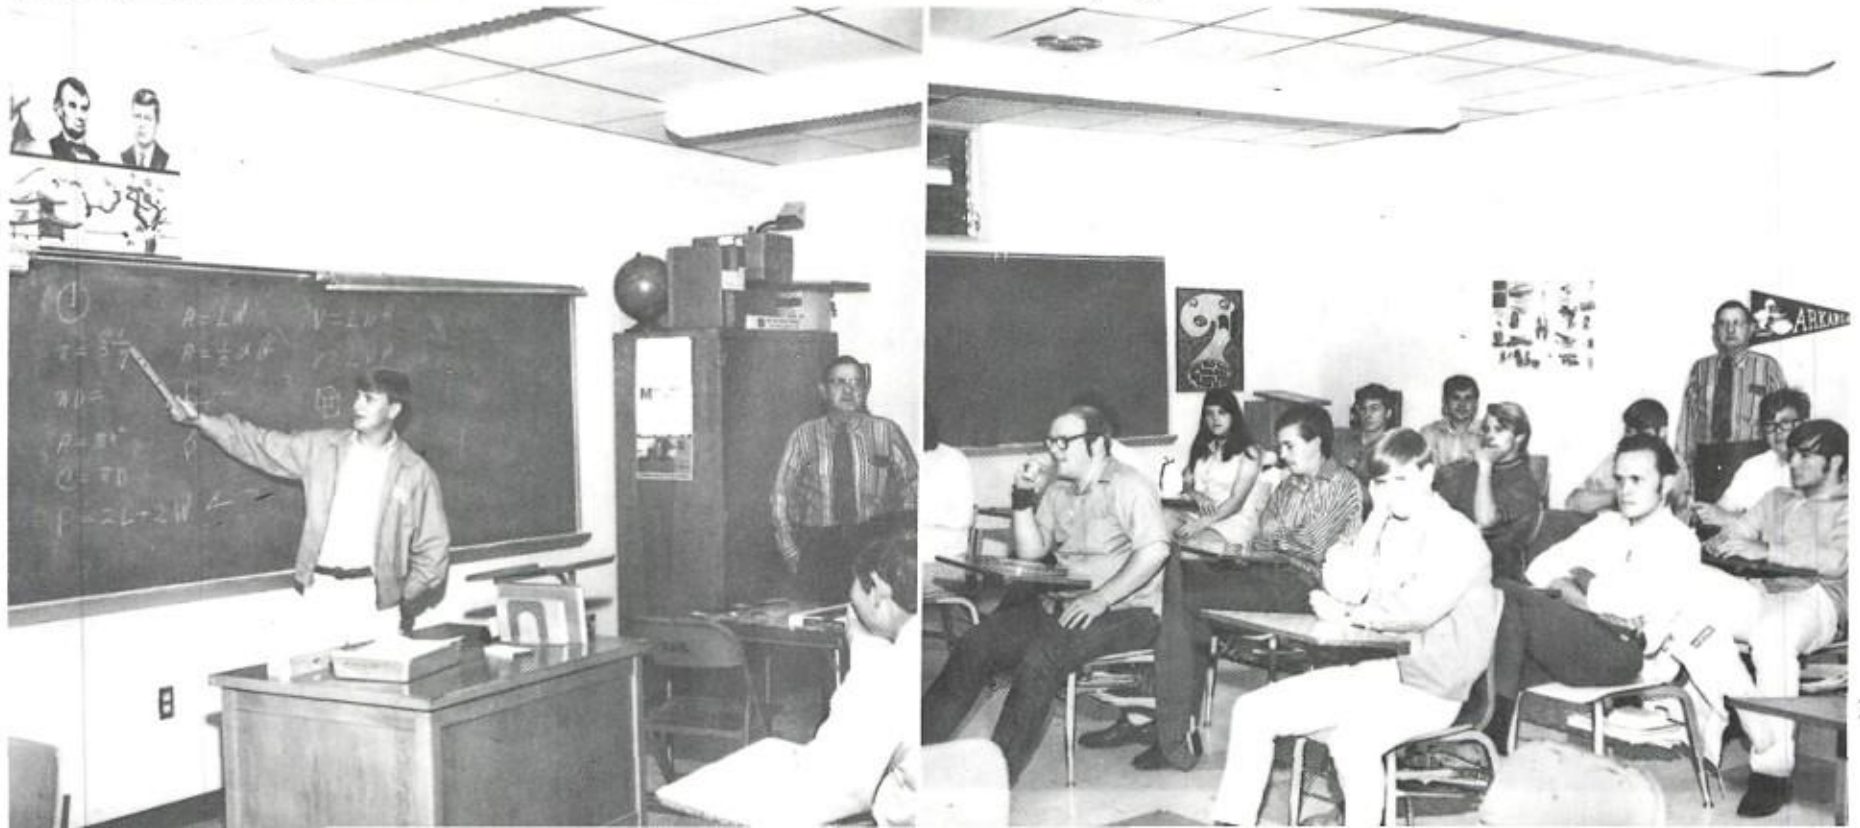

Roger Fausset, David White, and Jerry Howell work in the kitchen every day.

Work Experience students attend classes and do classroom work one-half of every day.

The Work Experience Program is designed for students sixteen years old or older who are handicapped academically, physically, socially, or economically. Such handicaps might prevent them from successfully competing with regular students or successfully completing the requirements for a regular high school diploma.

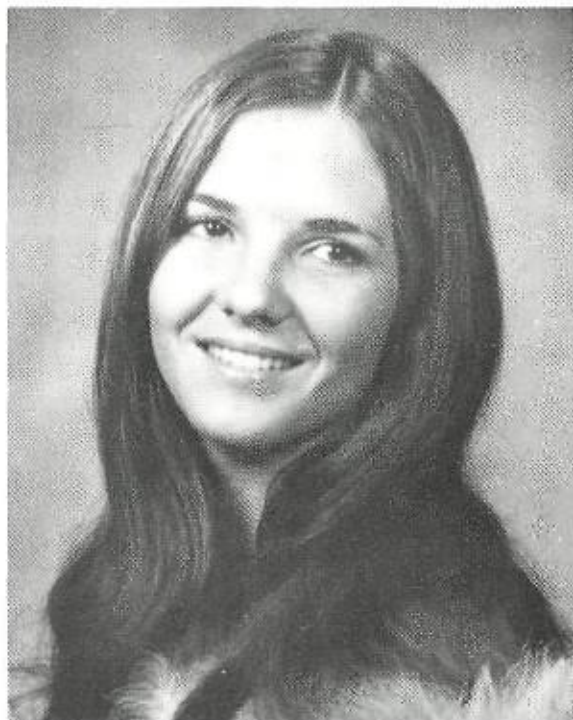

These students attend school one-half day, and then they work for one-half day.

Key Club Unlocks Door to Success

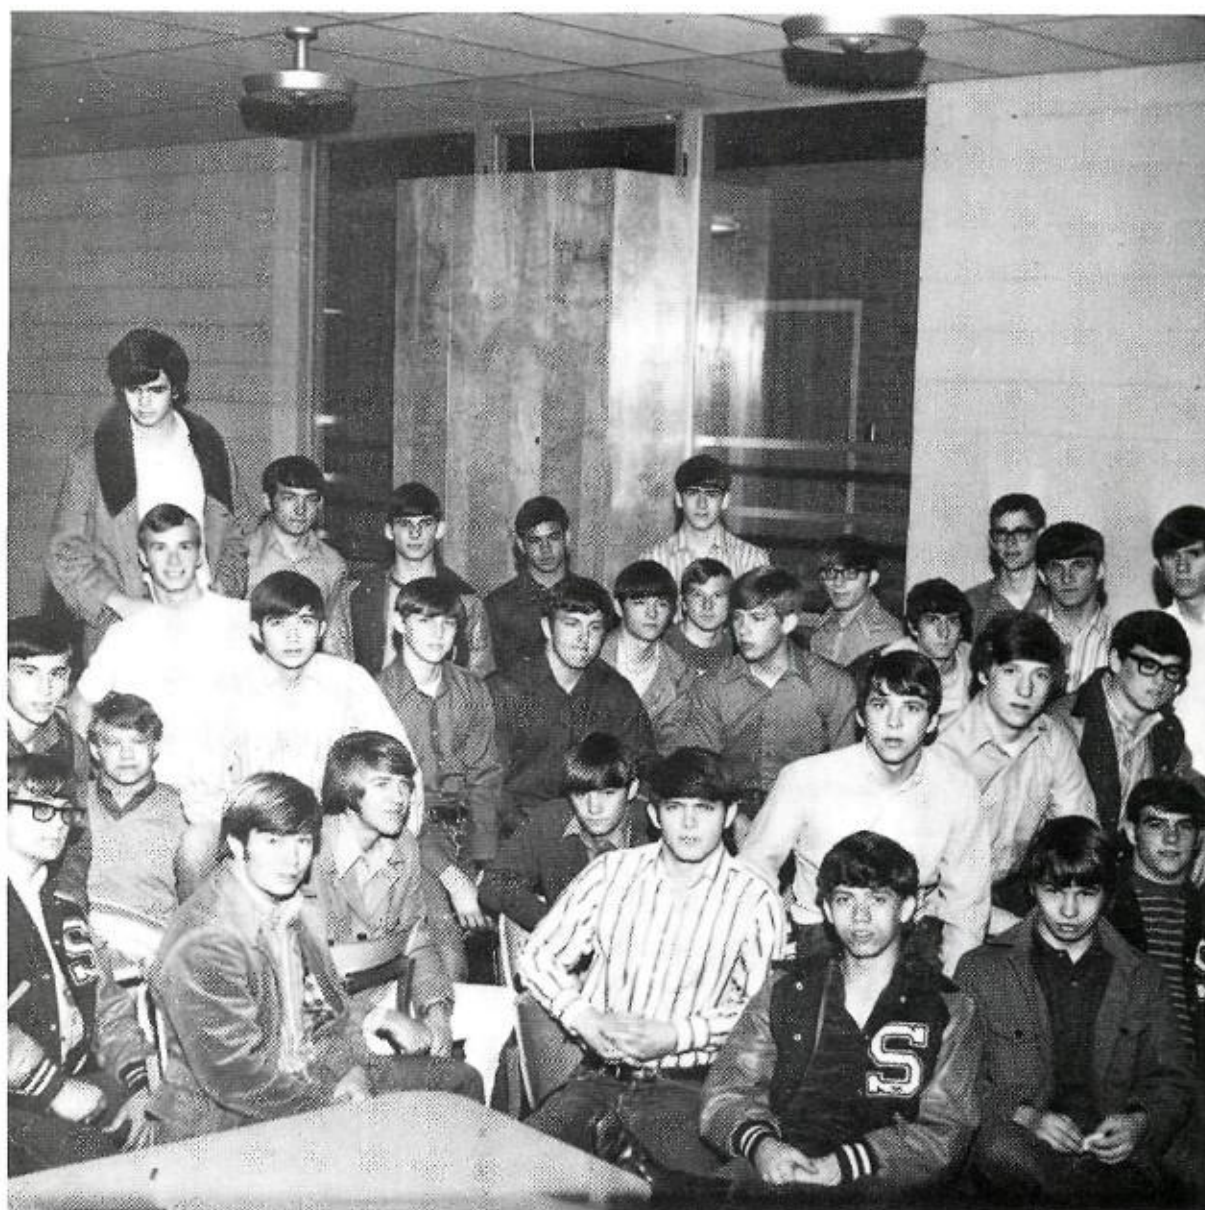

Key Club stresses the importance of scholarship, character, leadership, and good citizenship to all its members.

Gymnastic Club Balances Together

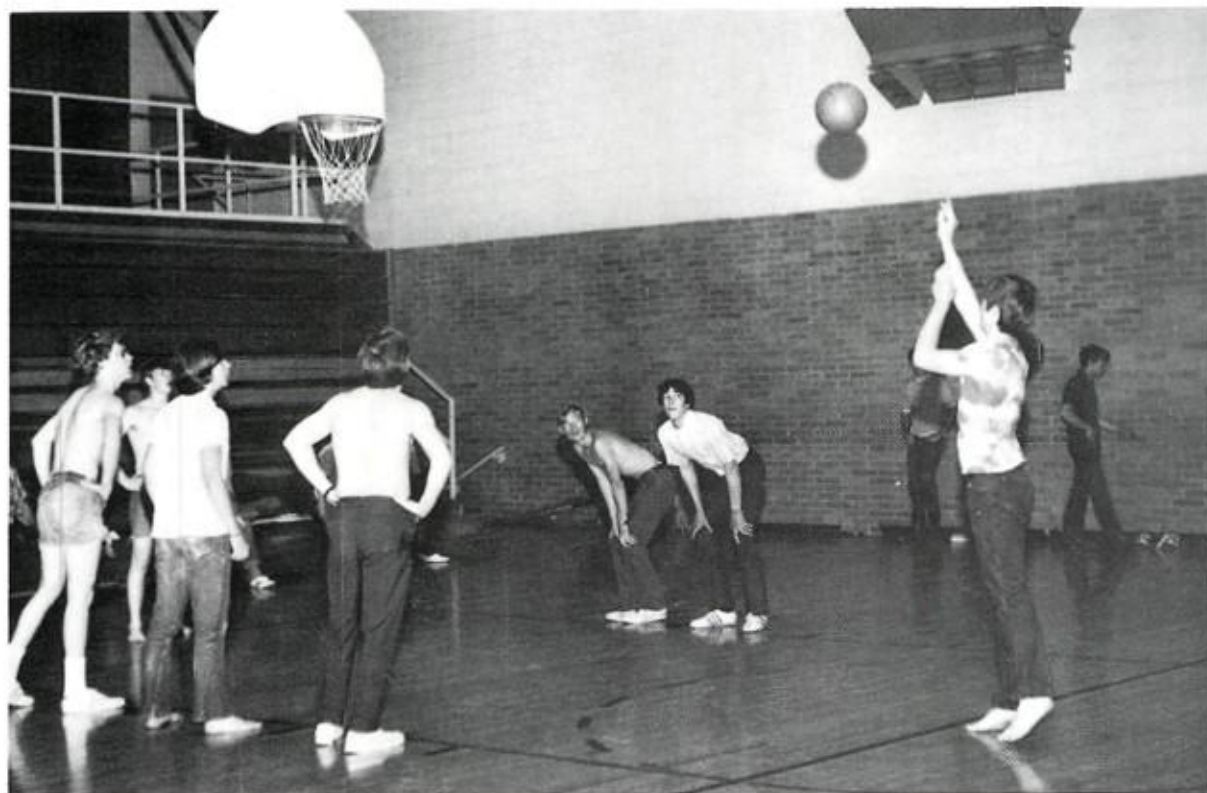

The members of the gymnastics club probably meet more than any other club at SHS. Starting in November, they had practices two mornings a week at seven o'clock, each person working on his or her own routine: Trampoline, balance beam, the horse, uneven parallel bars, or free-floor exercise. Later in the year all this practice payed off: the club had assemblies for the student body at SHS, at both Southwest and Central Junior Highs, and for the students at West Fork and Huntsville. Money earned from admission charged at these assemblies goes to the Physical Education Department to save for new gymnastic equipment. This years club is sponsored by Mrs. Mickey Williams and Coach Williams.

Band Performances Set High Standards

Mr. Wendell Hise, band director, announces changes in marching procedure.

Pre-season band marked the beginning of another full year of half-time shows, parades, try-outs, contests, and concerts.

For the first time the SHS Band participated in a regional marching contest, which was held at Fayetteville.

Another new activity was the Razorback Band Rally featuring the Arkansas Razorback and Springdale Bulldog bands. Other area bands were in attendance. The purpose of the Rally was to promote higher interest in band at all levels and to earn money for various expenses.

Science Club Seeks New Understanding

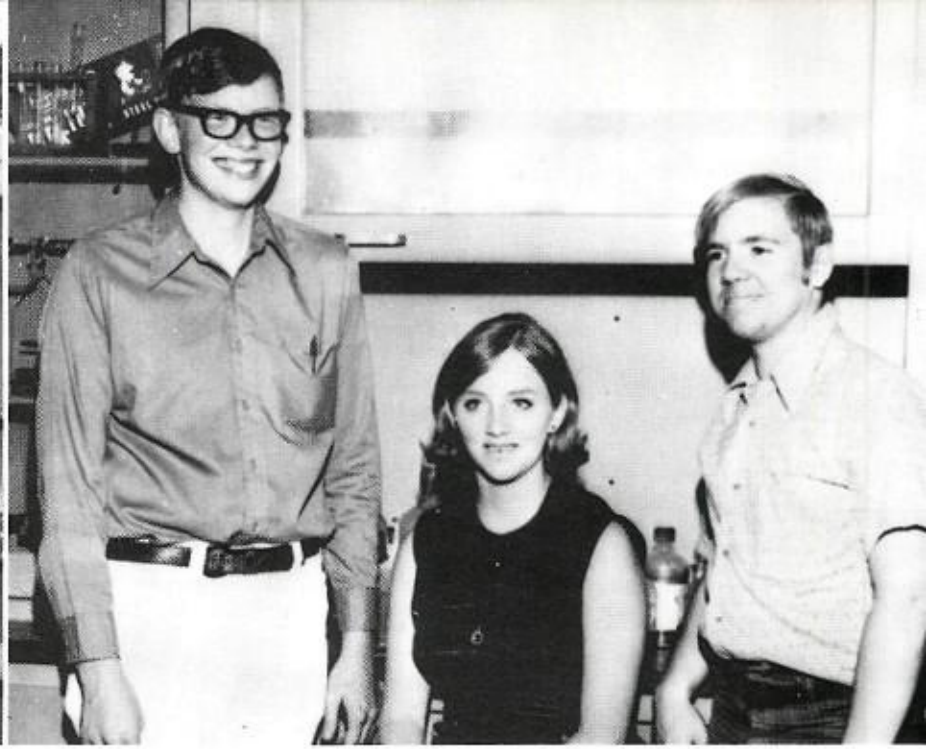

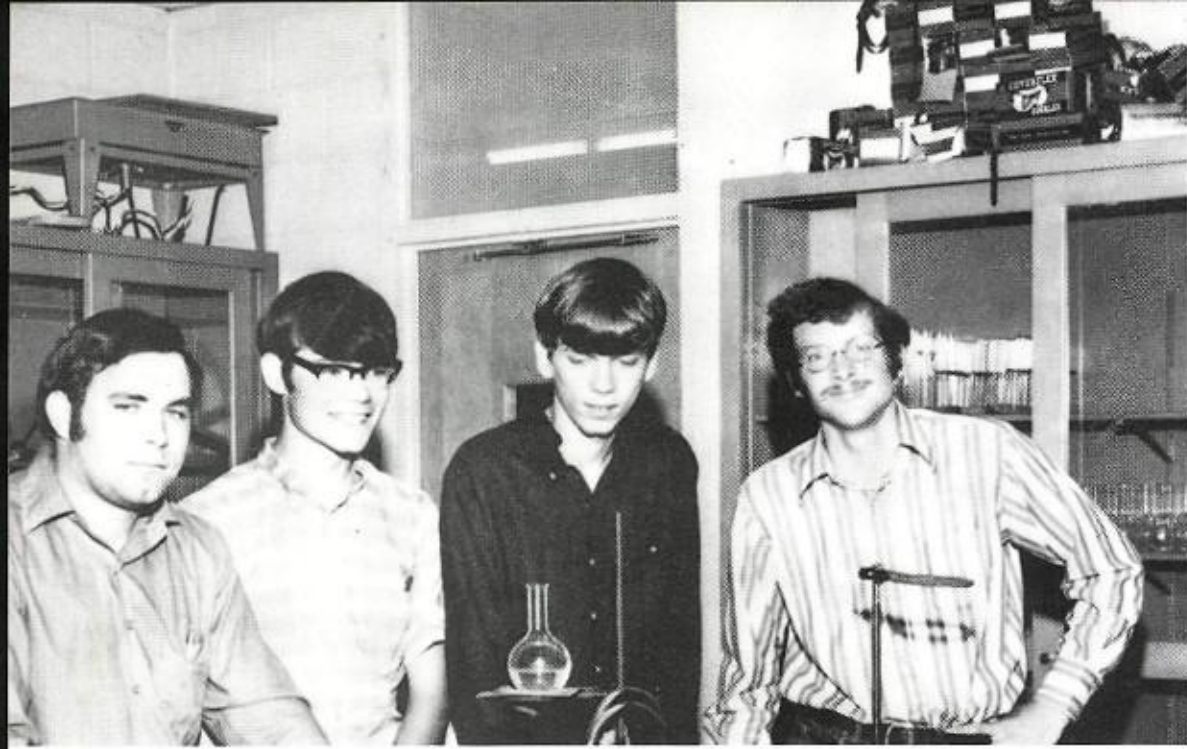

The Science Club was organized for interested students to increase their knowledge of science and to better understand its importance. Along with its big-brother counterpart, the Junior Academy of Science, the club participates in and co-sponsors the annual Science Fair at SHS. This year, to raise money to send students to the State Science Fair, the club organized various money making projects, which consisted mainly of pop bottles drives. In addition, its thirty members took a field trip to SEFOR, the nuclear energy plant near Winslow.

The Springdale chapter of the Junior Academy of Science celebrated its third birthday this year. This year JAS members traveled to Little Rock, Arkansas, West Point, and Huntsville, Alabama, to present their papers. The President of the Springdale chapter was also the State President this year.

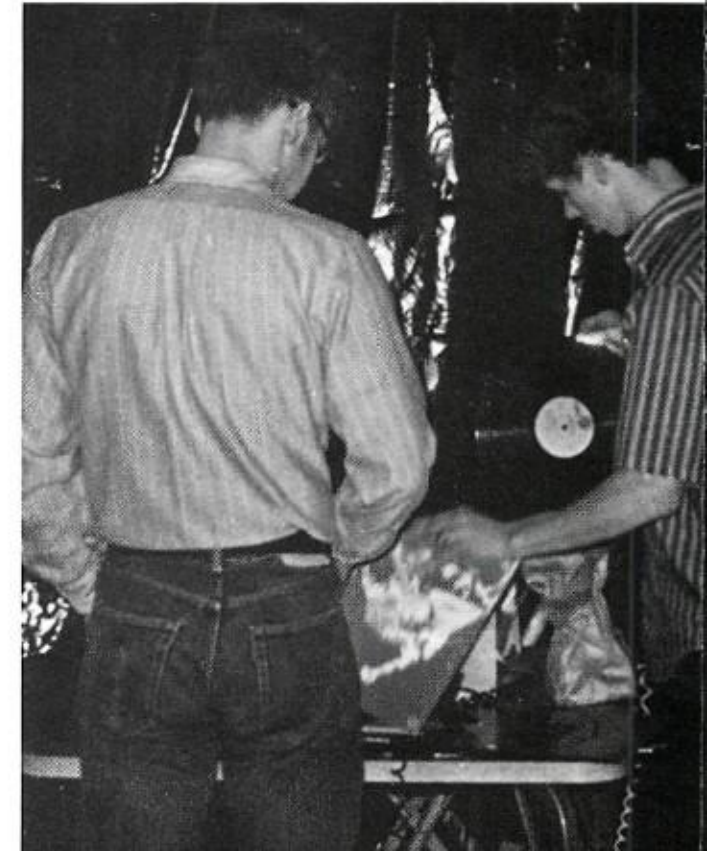

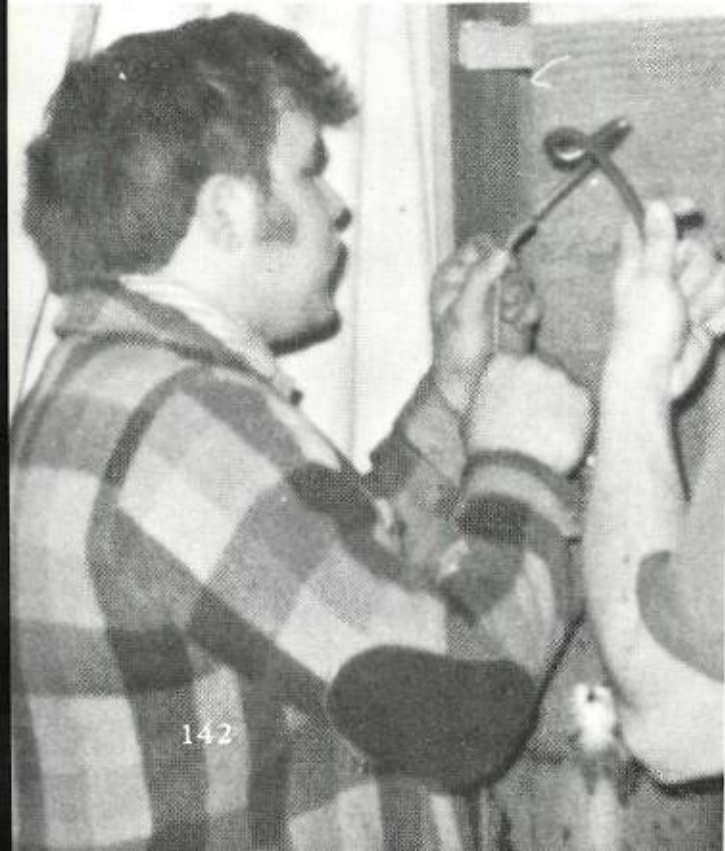

JAS is one of the few clubs at SHS in which open membership is not practiced. Prospective members must submit a request for membership as the Academy's number is limited to fifteen. The applicant is interviewed by members and faculty and his application is acted upon. In order to keep membership, each member must present a paper.

S Club Sponsors Faculty Game

"Watch the FOULS ref," says Mike Neil.

The "S" Club is an honorary organization for boys who have lettered in any of the major sports. Its aim is to encourage good sportsmanship, both in players and spectators, and to generally promote school spirit at SHS. The club's annual activity is sponsoring the student-faculty basketball game.

S Club officers are Bobby Winters, Pres.; Loren Bailey, Sec.-Treas.; and Sammie Karnes, V. Pres.

1971 Yearbook Staff Increased

This year the yearbook staff adopted a new format for the Bulldog, rearranging sections so that color pictures could be spaced throughout the book, and yet, be ready in time for the deadline. Also, for the first time in over 20 years, the yearbook had a boy editor, Rick Cochran.

Fund-wise, a larger business staff was organized to solicit ads, so that other staff members could devote more time to their pages.

Chess Club Combines Skill And Pleasure

The Chess Club was organized this year to give students who enjoy the game the opportunity to compete against one another, where otherwise they might not have the chance. Meetings once a month during homeroom gave them this chance, and competition between members is keen. The club is off to a good start with over thirty members, and will probably continue to grow.

1970 Football Season Disappointing

The Springdale Bulldogs' 1970 football season was a season for rebuilding. With only 11 lettermen returning from last year's AAA Conference Championship team, the 'Dogs had little hope of retaining the crown for a third year.

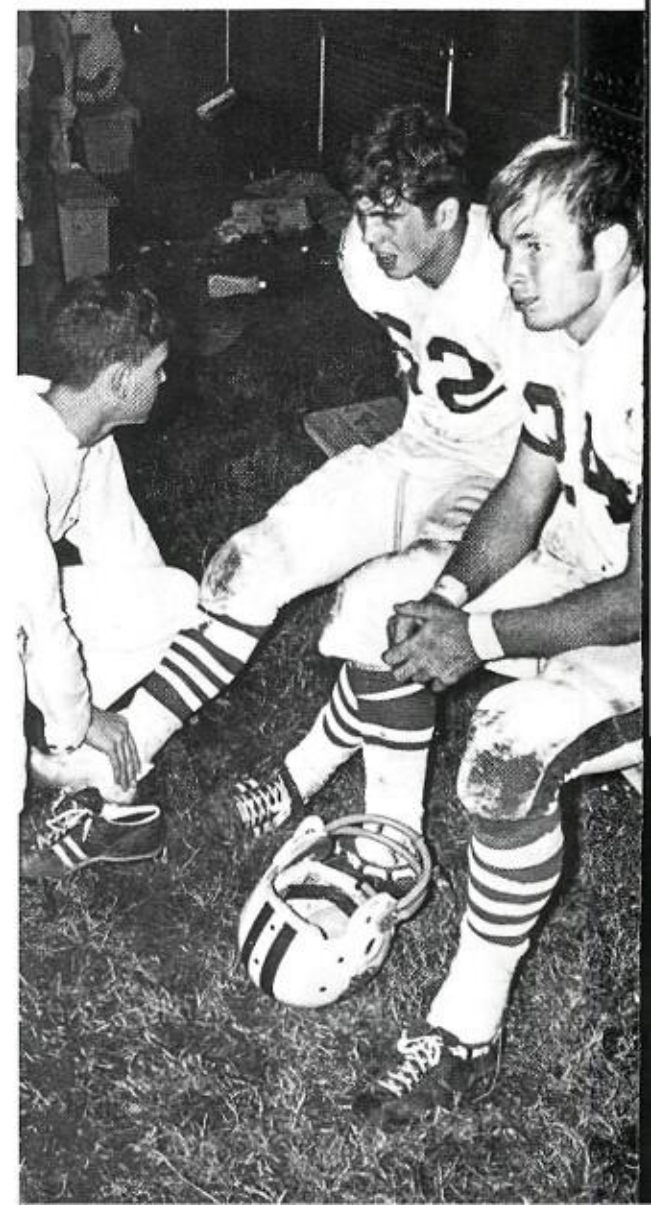

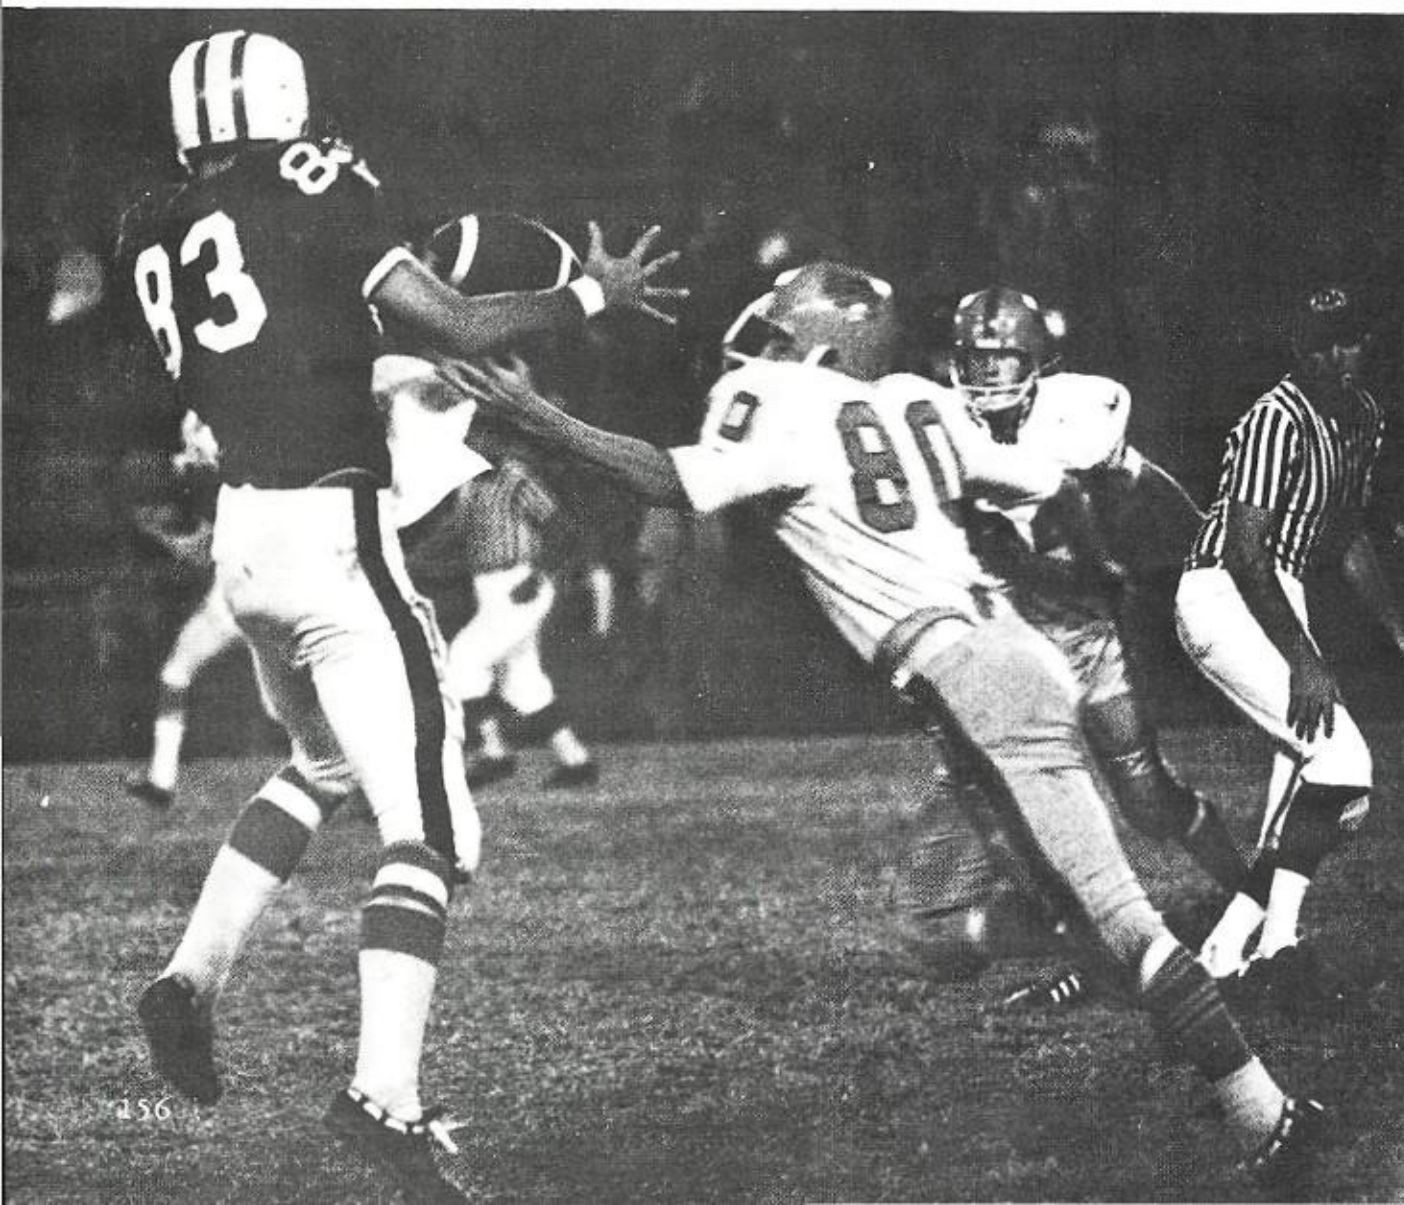

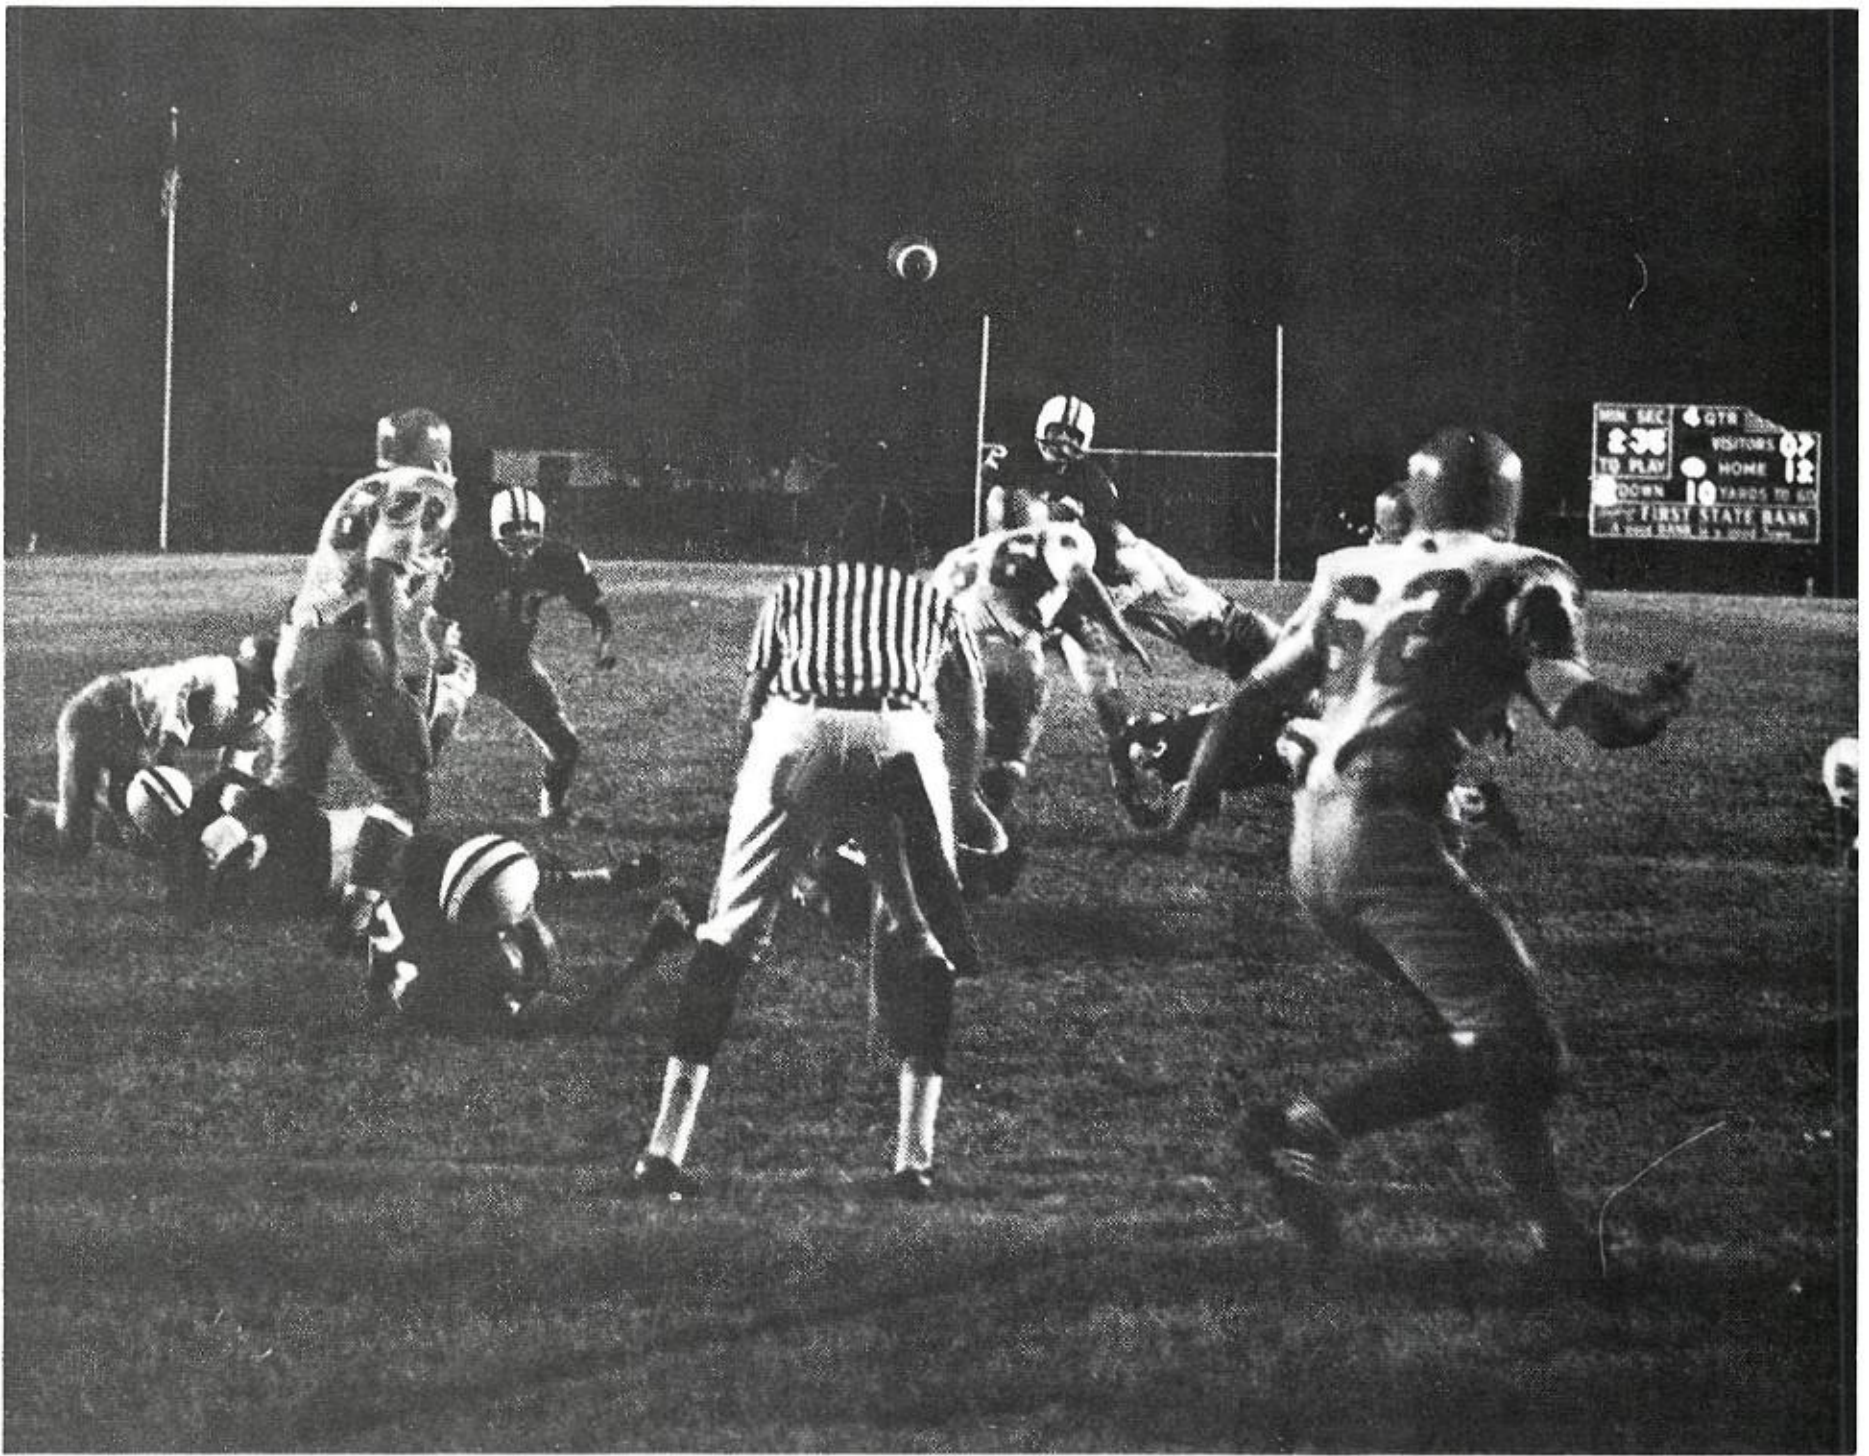

Although the 'Dogs did win their first two games, they seemed to lose momentum after losing their first conference game to Parkview by only one touchdown, and they never fully regained that needed momentum to put together a winning season.

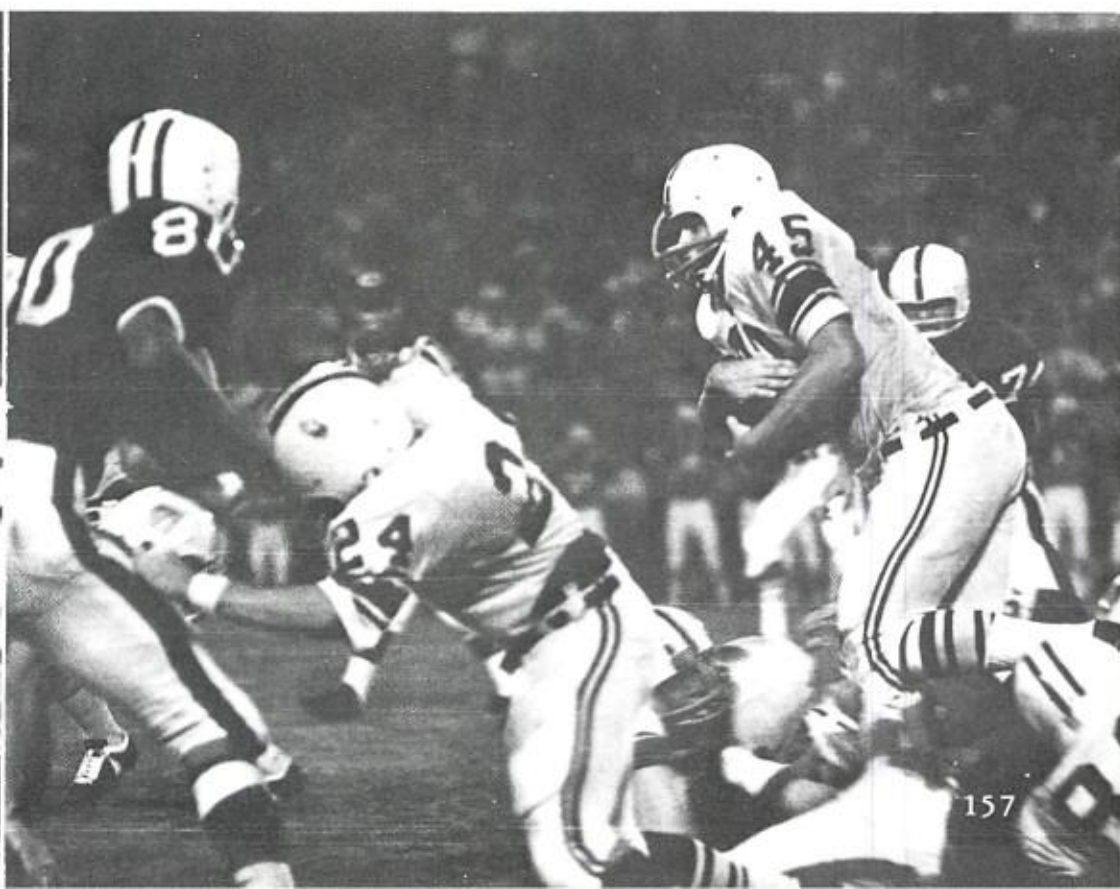

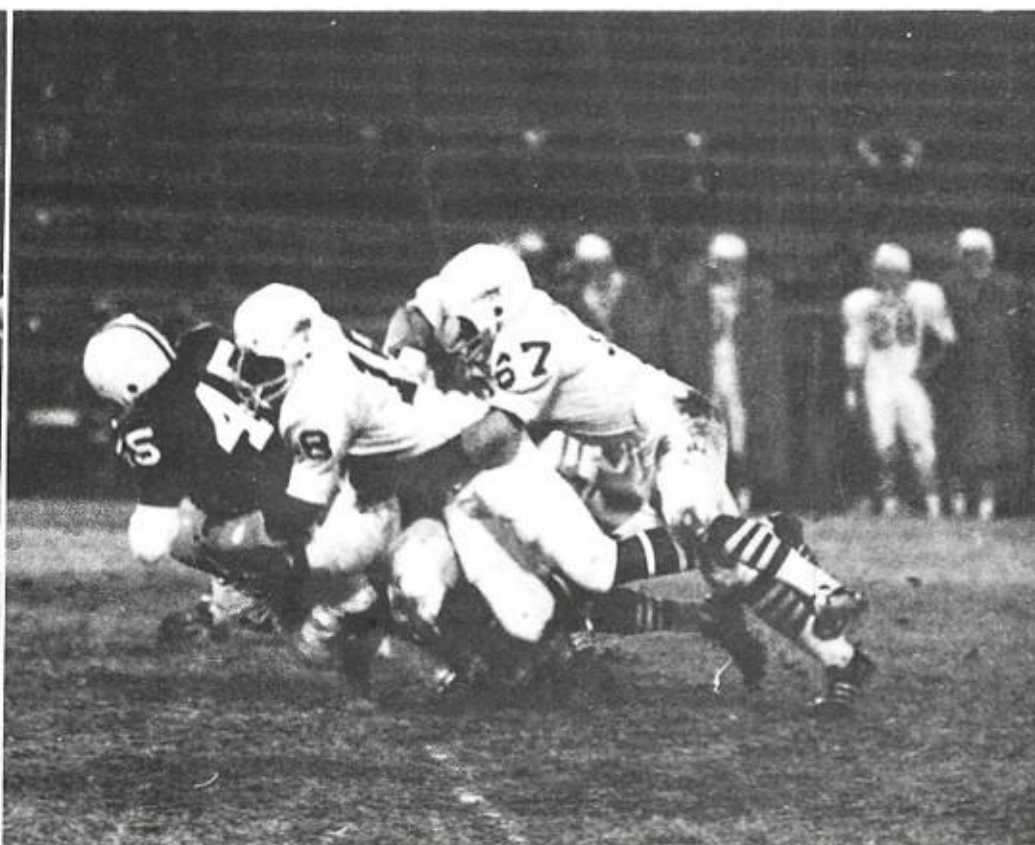

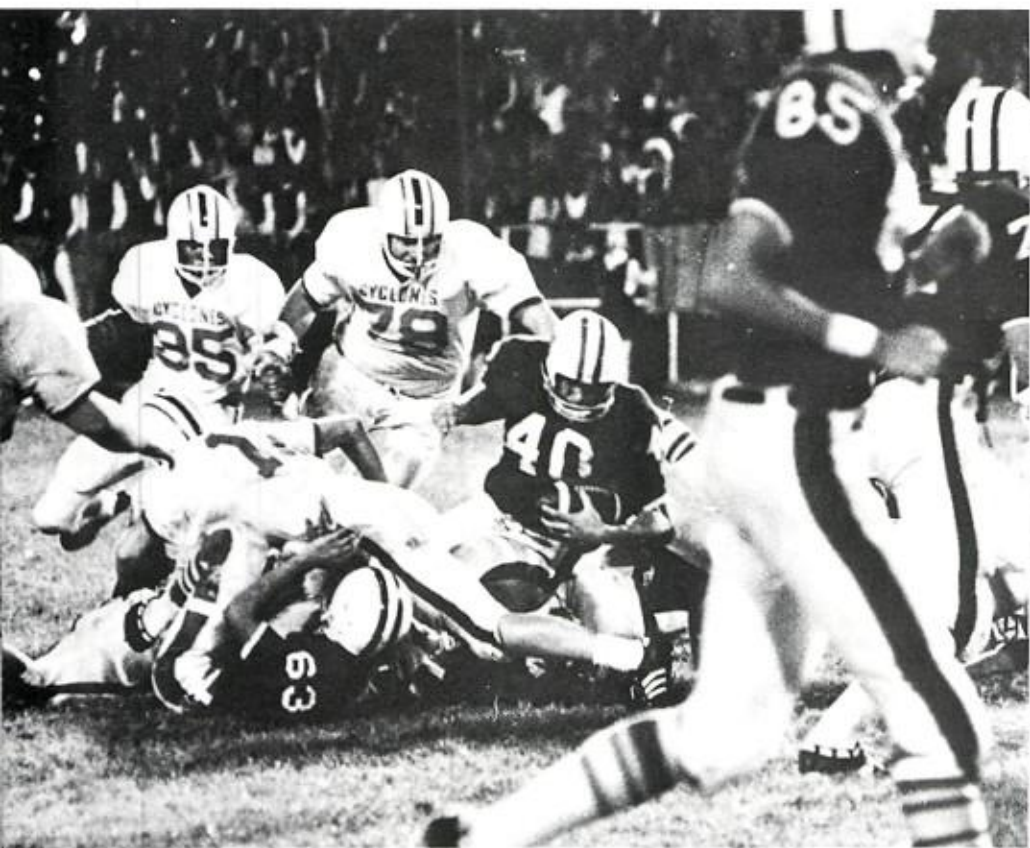

At the end of the season, Sammy Karnes and George Wilkinson were named football co-captains for 1970. Sammy Karnes also received recognition by being the only Bulldog player named to the AAA Western Conference team.

The 1970-71 basketball season was not one which could be looked back on as a good memory. Although the 'Dogs did finish fifth out of the eight teams in the Western Conference, a 10-16 record is not impressive.

In the Springdale Invitational Tournament, Rogers defeated Springdale 65-61 in the semifinals and went on to defeat Fayetteville to take first in the tournament. Springdale beat Siloam Springs in the consolation game to take third place. West Fork was awarded the Sportsmanship trophy.

Tommy Ward was the team's most valuable player for the year. Tommy, a senior, scored 998 points in his high school career, was chosen to play in the All Star Game, named All Tournament in the Springdale Invitational Tournament, and named All Conference for the second year in a row.

At the close of each school year, a special faculty committee reviews and evaluates the records of members of the graduating class and selects those with the most outstanding qualifications to be named to the Hall of Fame.

This year the criteria for selecting students to the Hall of Fame were contributions which improved the quality of life in school and community; excellence in class work; diligence in serving others through leadership or cooperation in extra-curricular activities; demonstration of outstanding abilities in local, regional, state, or national competitions; and generous devotion to church and community programs of continuing cultural enrichment.

Since the establishment of the Hall of Fame at SHS eight years ago, it has served as an inspiration among students, encouraging them to strive for higher goals. The qualified seniors learn of their selection at the annual Senior Awards Assembly.

This year sixteen "Super Seniors" were selected to the Hall of Fame. Since 1964, 128 students have been recognized and honored as students who, during their four years of high school, excelled in making SHS a better school.

Graduation Requires Much Practice

The weeks before graduation were marked by bustle and excitement for the seniors. They ordered caps and gowns and senior keys and sent invitations. And they approached graduation with great expectations.

Seniors purchased their robes and were able to keep them as a senior remembrance.

Seniors Honored at Annual Assembly

The seniors went through the preliminaries of Senior Assembly and Baccalaureate. Then suddenly graduation night came, and the seniors marched as a class for the last time.

Class secretary, Karen Grimsley, offers thanks to Teri LeFevre and the Junior class for the bouquet of yellow roses presented to the Seniors.

Graduation: the End and the Beginning

Graduation brought feelings of achievement and nostalgia and a little fear at what lies ahead. Yet as they look forward to the coming years the seniors can truly say they've only just begun.
